IN THE INDUSTRIAL TRIBUNAL GOA, DAMAN AND DIU, PANAJI-GOA

(Before Dr. Renato de Noronha, Hon'ble Presiding Officer)

Complaint No. IT/56/78

1. Shri Simon Almeida — Complainant
V/s.

1. M/s. Hotel Mandovi — Opposite Party

Complainant represented by Shri N. J. Rebelo, Union Leader.

Opposite Party represented by Shri Ramesh Desai, Labour Advisor.

Panaji Dated: 25-2-1983.

AWARD

This is a complaint under Section 33A of the I.D.A., 1947, in short the Act, filed by the above complainant against the above opponent.

2. It is complainant's case that, during the pendency of references Nos. IT-GDD-4/74, GDD-12/76 and GDD-32/76, the opponent contravened the provision of Section 33 of the Act by terminating the services of the complainant, who was working for the opponent as trainee/waiter from 15-10-1976; his training period was of 9 months ending on 17-7-1977 and his services were terminated by the opponent by letter dated 14-4-1977, offering him the pay of one month; no inquiry was conducted in the misconduct, if any, nor opportunity afforded to the complainant to explain his conduct; the complainant was an active member of the Goa Hotel & Restaurant Employees Union and that is why the opponent has terminated his services before the probation period was over, without obtaining prior permission of the concerned authority, before whom the references are pending. It is prayed that the action of the opponent be held as illegal, unjustified and malafide and the complainant be reinstated in service, with continuity and full back wages.

3. In its written statement, the opponent states that the complainant is not concerned in any way with the references pending adjudication before the Industrial Tribunal and, therefore, the complaint is not maintainable. On merits, it is alleged that, during the training period, the complainant was not found to be upto the standard expected and, because of this, the Management discontinued his services for loss of confidence, paid him all his dues by demand draft, which the complainant accepted without protest. Having accepted the payment for the termination of service without protest, he is now debarred from challenging the validity of the discontinuation of his training. No inquiry was required for such discontinuation, because the complainant was a trainee and his training could be terminated at any time, without assigning any reason. It is not true that he was not given an opportunity to improve; he was verbally cautioned very often to improve and was even warned in writing by the Management's letter dated 11-2-1977. His termination is by way of discharge simpliciter, since the Management had lost confidence in him. The Opponent is not aware as to whether the complainant is or not an active member of the Union as alleged.

4. The complainant filed his rejoinder, maintaining what he had stated in the complainant.

5. Following issues were framed by the Tribunal:

1. Does the Workman/Party I prove that the Employers/Party II are guilty of contravention of Section 33 of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947?
2. Does the Employers/Party II prove that the complaint is not maintainable?
3. Does the Employers/Party II prove that this is a case of discharge simpliciter?

4. Does the workman/party I prove that his services have been illegally and malafide terminated and such termination amounts to victimization for Trade Union activities?"

6. Both the parties filed their written arguments on the point of the preliminary issue, regarding the maintainability of the complaint and the matter was kept for order by my Ld. Predecessor. When I took over as Presiding Officer of this Tribunal, I found that the preliminary issue cannot be decided without affording an opportunity to the parties to lead their evidence. Consequently, date was fixed for the evidence of the complainant. On the date fixed, the complainant remained absent and his evidence was declared closed and date was given for opponents evidence. On this date, the opponents representative submitted that the parties are trying to settle the matter amicably and prayed for time, which was granted. Finally, the complainant's representative filed an application stating that the matter has been amicably settled between the parties and prayed that he may be allowed to withdraw the complaint, which prayer was not objected to by the opponent's representative.

7. Since the matter has been amicably settled between the parties outside the Court and the complainant wishes to withdraw the complaint, which prayer is not objected to by the opponent's representative, I grant the withdrawal asked for and dismiss the complaint with no order as to costs.

Dr. Renato de Noronha

Presiding Officer,
Industrial Tribunal.
